Save Our Earth

One sunny afternoon, Lily and Tom were walking through the park. As they looked around, they saw a lot of litter on the ground. Candy wrappers, plastic bottles, and even a few old newspapers were scattered everywhere.

Lily picked up a piece of trash and said, "Tom, it's so sad to see all this garbage. People should keep the park clean."

Tom nodded. "You're right, Lily. I think we need to do more to protect our planet. Did you know that pollution is making the Earth sick?"

"Really?" Lily asked, looking worried. "How?"

Tom explained, "Factories are releasing smoke into the air, and people are cutting down too many trees. If we don't stop, we could lose the beautiful places we love, like this park."

Lily frowned. "That sounds terrible! What can we do to help?"

Tom smiled. "Well, we can start by recycling. If we separate trash like plastic, paper, and glass, we can save them and use them again. Also, using less plastic, like bringing our own bags when we shop, can really make a difference."

Lily thought for a moment. "I can do that! And we can turn off the lights when we're not using them to save energy."

"Exactly!" Tom said. "If everyone works together, we can protect nature and keep the Earth healthy."

"Let's start right now by picking up all this trash. We can make the park beautiful again!" Lily smiled.

Tom nodded. "Let's do it, Lily! Every little bit helps!"

A Man Who Swallowed a Horse

One day, Mr. Green rushed into Mr. Williams' clinic. "What's wrong with you?" asked the doctor. Mr. Green said, "I have a stomachache. I've swallowed a horse, doctor. I feel very ill." "Oh, when did you swallow the horse?" asked the doctor. "It was yesterday. I couldn't sleep well last night," said the man.

Mr. Williams was a good doctor. He always did his best to help his patients feel better. He thought for a few seconds and said, "All right, Mr. Green, I'll help you. Was it a male horse or a female one?" "Well, I'm not sure," answered the man. "Was it young or old?" asked the doctor. "Sorry, doctor… I can't remember that, either," said the man. "It's O.K. All right. Please lie down on this bed," said the doctor.

The doctor's nurse gave the man an injection. The man went to sleep very soon. The doctor went out quickly to look for a horse in the town. After half an hour he found one, he borrowed it and took it into his office. When Mr. Green woke up, it was there in front of him.

"Here's the horse, Mr. Green," the doctor said, "I've taken it out of your stomach, and it won't give you any more trouble now. Here is your medicine. Don't forget to take it every day."

At first Mr. Green was pleased, but then he looked at the horse again and said, "But, doctor, my horse was white, and this one is brown!"
